

THE IMPORTANT PART PLAYED BY MINE FIELDS IN NAVAL WARFARE

BARBED WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS OF THE OCEAN

Mine Fields Answer Just the Same Purpose Afloat as the Barbed Wire Entanglements Do in Protecting Trenches from Attacks of the Enemy

While the army is hammering away in the west front to break through "barbed wire" and other devilish entanglements of the land war, the navy has been rather passive. Few realize, however, that the navy has to face the same kind of "mine field" which are just as treacherous as those the army has to break through. An ironclad battleship, like a sea, such as the one in the chart room of a British warship, is dotted with red dots. They indicate the presence of mines, some British laid and some taken by the German submarines. These are the "barbed wires" of the sea, and a nastier thing to run against than any land mine. The secret in devising methods of destruction, has never contrived. One need exert no effort in imagination to see the parallelism for the comparison, for the mine fields answer just the same purpose as do the barbed wire entanglements done on shore.

Until it sea war would be a very different thing from what it now is, or at least, in the most important fighting places.

The mine fields limit the movements of the intelligent forces. Even the British, great fleet, though it be of the sea, cannot go where it pleases because the mine fields are placed about the waters. Whenever the sea German submarine comes along, he drops a mine field in front of its path and behind this protection proceeds with his task, which is to sink British admiral would be as foolish as to play the enemy's game by taking his ships into such a dangerous area.

And they are not little mine fields that the German submarine drops. Some of those they have laid in the North Sea are quite the biggest "entanglements" of the ocean, containing, as they do thousands upon thousands of floating death traps. No British admiral would dare to enter a mine field unless it knows the secret channel, and where such exist, the British admiral would be as foolish as to employ the protection of transports in order to insure a food supply to his own population.—From the Buffalo Express.

Developing Resources

Directing the Work of Cultivating Idle Lands in Britain

Feeding Britain with home-grown foodstuffs is the problem on which millions have been working in close cooperation. The Director of National Supply, the Minister of Agriculture and the Food Controller have their plans almost completed, and they expect to have them ready in time to be almost revolutionary. It is remarkable how well the secret of feeding Britain has been kept. The Land Enquiry Committee has issued wonderful reports, and the statistician, engineer, agriculturist, and every educated acre. Descriptions are available about the kind of soil, the leading crops, the yield per acre, the price of products can find all the information desired. But there is still a striking deficiency.

The men who are keeping land for their own amusement or vanity, are mostly discreetly silent about it. They succeed in directing the attention of the public to the fact that there are fenceless, comfortable areas in which the yield should be yielding, but there is a striking deficiency.

Barbed wire entanglements against troops can be destroyed by artillery. The kind used at sea cannot be swept away so easily.

A son might bombard a minefield until its guns were worn out and the "entanglement" was discovered to be immovable.

Minefields play the part of certain sources as well as protectionists. Often enough the Germans try to entice the British ships into these mine fields once they have succeeded in doing this. Numbers of such traps have been laid for British ships, but none of them.

In fact, the only traps laid in Germany have been the German mine fields.

By hearing in the press of the present day, the destruction of mine fields in the way of "riving off" crating grounds one becomes the better able to appreciate the terrible happenings which might otherwise seem a bit puzzling. Such, for example, as the recent sinking of one of the German high seas fleet. Every now and again it is reported by Berlin that our ships have gone out into the North Sea, yet sturdy and returned again without meeting the fate of war.

For all practical purposes two fleets might as well have a stretch of ground between them as two mine fields, since the one is more passable to ships than the other, and so last, the German mine fields which keeps within the shelter of its miles-wide minefields it may continue to "come out" with impunity.

Over 200 Indians Decorated
A special despatch from India.

The Viceroy, Lord Chelmsford, at a special parade held at the vice-regal residence, presented medals and orders to two hundred Indian officers and men. The scene was witnessed by General Sir Charles Munro and a large number of the headquarters staff.

The decorations included three Victoria Crosses and several French and Indian medals.

"Up to the end of December, the central Imperial Relief Fund, established by the Government and Madras provincial funds, amounted to $3,450,000."

Recrudescent
How do you suppose the New York fish-dealers ever happened to make such a look fresh? "Probably from watching their wives apply the rouge in the morning—Life."

Food Value of Milk

Three Quarts of Skim Milk Equal to One Pound of Sirkeln

"Dairy Farming," prepared by G. H. Eckles, professor of dairy husbandry at Cornell University, is intended for students, professors, and colleagues and schools in which agriculture is a branch of study.

However, much with that. The facts given in regard to the care and handling of dairy cattle are such as should be within reach of every dairy farmer. What is said as to the value of milk is equally valuable to every city household.

This latter point is dealt with in the first chapter of the book. In every case, however, the figures given are told, animal milk of some kind is used to sustain human life. It is also told that the cow is used to afford the milk of the cow is used where people are very poor the milk is sold at a high price.

Where cows will not thrive, as in the Philippines or parts of South America, the cow is used for the production of use of milk.

It is not surprising that the use of milk is the most valuable, because it is one of the most valuable of foods. The average milk of the cow, although it may contain 3.5 per cent of dry matter, is about double the proportion of water to solid matter equal to one-third of that found in the edible portion of a beefsteak, which contains as much energy as a pound of sirloin steak, although the latter cost over twice as much.

Even a quart of skim milk has over one-third the energy value of a quart of whole milk, and twice the bone-forming material that is found in beefsteak thus making it a perfectly valuable form of food for the young.

"It," says the author, "is not surprising that the price per quart for milk one could be as well fed at less cost. Much of the money that is spent on milk is wasted, and the result is that little or no value is given for the milk spent for meat.

Approximately, the author says, 38 quarts of milk are used per person per year in the average farm family, 24 quarts in the city, and 12 quarts in the city, the average person under the food value of milk.

In New York city, the per capita consumption is third in twenty years.

Butter is an especially valuable food, and it is estimated that there are three to two-thirds as much energy as a pound of sirloin steak.

It is the advantage of being fat.

In cow population in progress to human population in the world having one cow for two persons, Japan is about one cow to seventy to one hundred people.

If we take it that the world is about 3,000,000,000 people, Japan is an importer of dairy products while Denmark is largely exporter of dairy products in proportion to population than United States.

In the United States there are manufacturing establishments capitalized at $131,571,000, with 59,575 employees.

On the average, each person fed on the farm will be enrolled in the civilian service system.

It should be a good one for Canada to do the same.

We copy the best system, and in case of emergency, we can fall back on our own resources.

It is evident that if she sets a good example, the rest will follow.

To Train Airmen Here

Canada to Form Wing of Imperial Royal Flying Corps

It is officially announced that a wing of the Imperial Royal Flying Corps for training purposes to be recruited on Canadian soil.

On Sept. 1, 1916, preliminary training candidates will be sent to England for higher training, and the final examination and test will be given as commissions as flying officers in the Royal Flying Corps.

The Canadian wing of the Canadian air force will be in charge of flying free of expense.

The machines will be built in Canada, and, as far as possible, material and plant will be purchased in Canada. It is expected that 2,000 skilled mechanics will be required to train the personnel of these squadrons.

Get Down to Business

We must organize, as well as lay down new principles. The resources of the Empire are enormous, and the war has shown that we have the means and ability to do things on a grand scale and orders in two hundred Indian officers and men. The scene was witnessed by General Sir Charles Munro and a large number of the headquarters staff.

The decorations included three Victoria Crosses and several French and Indian medals.

"Up to the end of December, the central Imperial Relief Fund, established by the Government and Madras provincial funds, amounted to $3,450,000."

Recrudescent
How do you suppose the New York fish-dealers ever happened to make such a look fresh? "Probably from watching their wives apply the rouge in the morning—Life."

"MADE IN CANADA"

The 1917 Ford Touring Car $495.00

Ed. & Ford, Ontario

You pay less for this car, but it gives you more enjoyment, more mileage and longer service than these which cost more.

The Touring Car gives the utmost in automobile value, pride of ownership and economy.

Only the wealthy can afford to keep a horse and buggy... Buy a Ford this year and save money.

Call and see me—J

D. A. Sinclair, Dealer Blairmore, Alta.

Ales, Stouts, Wines and Spirits By Mail Order

A Comparison of our Quality and Prices will convince you that "It Pays to Trade With Us."

BRANDIES	Bottle	Glass	Gallon
Martini or Hennessy X.	$2.00	$22.00
Johnnie Walker's XXX.	2.25	25.00
Domestic, 100.	1.75	18.50
Domestic, 100, proofed.			6.75
Brandy in Wood, 15 underproof.			8.75
Brandy in Wood, 15 underproof.			9.50
NORWEGIAN & DANISH SPIRITS:
Löten's A. Wine.	1.25	15.00
Löten's Wine Proofed.	1.25	15.00
Danish Amaret.	1.25	12.50
Danish Amaret Punsch.	1.25	15.00
GIN:
Gold Cross Geneva, Box.	1.25	18.00
Gold Cross Geneva, Green.	1.10	12.00
Delaware's Geneva, Red.	1.25	18.00
Quinton's Geneva, Red.	1.25	22.00	6.25
ROSES & TONIC & CO'S TONIC WOLF:
Schnaps; Bal's Liqueur; Parrot Brand;
Rose Line, Slop Gin.	1.50	16.50
Rock Line, Tonic.			6.75
Williamson's Old Tom.			4.25
RUM:
E. & J. Biggs' Jamaica.	1.10	15.00
E. & J. Biggs' Jamaica.	1.10	15.00
Tion & Cameron's Demerara.	1.50	14.00	6.50
Domestic, proof strength.			7.75
Domestic, 34 overproof.			9.00
WISKEIS:
Oscar's Irish, eight summers old, Bourbon.	1.75	16.75	7.50
E. & J. Burke's XXX Irish.	1.75	16.50
J. & J. Burke's XXX, Imperial quarts.	1.75	20.00	6.75
Mitchell's Rum.			7.50
Cockburn & Wray, Special Rye.	1.25	13.50	5.25
W. & G. & Son's Special Rye.	1.25	13.50	5.25
W. & G. & Son's Special Rye.	1.10	12.00
Golden West, Imperial quarts.	1.15	12.00
Walker's Canadian Club, Rye.			4.50
Walker's Canadian Club, Rye.			6.00
Walker's Imperial, Rye.			5.00
BEERS:
Mount Vernon, American Rye.	1.25	16.50
Old Kentucky, American Rye.	1.25	16.50
Johnnie Walker, Black Label, Scotch.	2.00	23.00
Johnnie Walker, Red Label.	1.75	21.00
Johnnie Walker, White Label.	1.75	18.00
W. & G. & Son's Special Rye.	1.25	18.00
Thewar's Special.	1.25	16.50
Tucker's Special, Premium.	1.25	16.50
Black & White.	1.25	19.50
Macdonald's Special Reserve, etc.	1.25	13.50	7.25
Tucker's Special, Premium.	1.25	13.50	7.25
Great Western Special, Scotch.			9.00
Kilmarnock, 55 n.p.			9.00

Cost of Packing, Jars and Wax Tax Included.

Pither & Leiser, Ltd. (Owned and Controlled by British Capital) Lloydminster, Sask.

VICTORIA, B. C.

COUNTER CHECK BOOKS

We supply nearly all The Pass stores.

The Imperial is the best that can be obtained.

Let us show you samples and quote prices.

The 'Enterprise,' Blairmore

Blairmore Lodge No. 18, meets in their hall, 10th Street, every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. Visiting brethren welcome.

J. H. HARRELL, S. C. MORENCY, R.S.

GROVE NEST EXCAMPMENT NO. 8

Meets in the L.O.D.G. Hall every second and fourth Wednesday

J. McMillan, C.P. W. D. Murray, R.S.

The honorary provincial secretary treasurer of the Red Cross has a receipt of $5.00 from the Blairmore branch to the central military hospital; $60 from Hillcrest Red Cross workers to the general fund; $422.50 from the employees of the West Canadas Colteries Bellevue mines, through the Bellevue branch.

The Municipal Ideal in Hygiene

It is the purpose of this paper to present a report of the meeting of the Blairmore Social Club, is published by request of and meeting. It is reproduced verbatim.—E. H. G.

At the outset I would ask those before me to bear in mind that in reading this paper, not to expect too much from the present report. The subject with which we are concerned is very large; it is also a subject of tremendous importance. In fact, it is so large that it can possibly challenge attention by any civilized community; and an adequate discussion of the subject would require more time and more room than we have at our disposal. In the event that the desire for a more detailed treatment of the subject should arise, I do not expect that my treatment of the matter will be EXHAUSTIVE—except, possibly, for my audience. Rather, all that I can hope to do is to bring out the main points of the subject, and point out that of great sanitary importance, not only to our community, but to any given community, is the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness, and the promotion of a healthy physique and a healthy town.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

These assemblages which it is not necessary to point out here. The carrying of drums or swords into public gatherings also has its disadvantages, both from the aesthetic and from the hygienic point of view; also, the use of robes, cloaks, etc., is not to be tolerated. The fact of the matter is that the problem of the ULTIMATE disposal of sewage is adequately dealt with, and really solved, only by such elaborate methods as those mentioned above, and the community which declines to adopt some such improved method of sewage disposal is guilty of a serious offense.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

Having thus considered what we mean by "the municipal ideal in hygiene," and whether that ideal is possible of attainment, let us consider the means by which it may be attained. We must, however, bear in mind that the attainment of a high degree of personal and community healthiness is not to be attained by any means, except by the application of the principles of HYGIENE.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it. In using the traditional method of disposing of our dead by burying them in the ground, Tradition dies hard; and it may very well be believed that the custom of exposing the dead on the scaffold, or hanging them in cages, was a good method of disposing of the dead, but it is not a good method of disposing of the living.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

And now, in closing, let us just say that we shall never attain "the municipal ideal" if we do not go to work to realize it.

Blairmore Opera House

THURSDAY, MARCH 29th

W. B. Sherman
presents

The Cleanest and Sweetest Drama
Ever Produced on the American Stage

Little

"Peggy O'Moore"

You'll Love 'Peg' When You See Her

Seats on sale at W. A. Beebe's
Prices: 75c and $1.00. Children 25c.

Better Than "Peg o' My Heart"

The war is now costing Great Britain six million dollars a day.

The remains of the late Duchess of Cognac are to be cremated.

Count Zeppelin, after whom the big German air engines of war were named, is dead.

Lieut. Stubbs, listed as wounded on Saturday last, was at one time a prominent labor man in District 18, U.M.W.O.A.

Last Saturday was observed at Calgary as tag day for the Returned Veterans, when over two thousand dollars were realized.

A British destroyer and merchant vessel were sunk, and another destroyer was damaged in a naval raid at Ramsgate by submarines.

The auction sale of beds and bedding, conducted at the old Crow's Nest Pass Hardware Company's store, Frank on Monday, was poorly attended.

Private Joe McIlhaga, who returned to Frank from the front on Saturday last, was renewing acquaintances in the Metropolis of The Pass on Wednesday.

As a result of the entertainment given at the open house last week by Private Peat and Trooper Jerritt, the sum of $15.45 has been added to the funds of the local branch of the Red Cross Society.

Brigadier-General E. A. Cruckshank has been appointed historian to the Canadian militia department at Ottawa, and leaves Calgary this week end to take up his new post. He has had a brilliant civil and military career, and is known in eastern Canada as well as in the west.

Blairmore Lodge No. 68, of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, will observe Sunday, April the 29th, in thanksgiving, by attending Divine Service on that day. Invitations have been extended to other lodges throughout the south part of the Alberta jurisdiction, and a big attendance is expected.

An Irishman who was rather too fond of strong drink was asked by the parish priest: "My son, do you expect to get into Heaven?" The Irishman replied: "Shure an that's slay! When I get to the gates of Heaven I'll open the door and shut the door and open the door and shut the door and keep on doing that till St. Peter gets impatient and says, 'For goodness sake, Mike, either come in or stay out!'"

The French cabinet, headed by Premier Briand, has resigned.

A meeting of newspaper publishers of Southern Alberta is being held at Calgary today...

A large number of Blairmore folks took in the masquerade ball at Bellevue on Monday night.

Augustus Howe, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Howe, Blairmore, has been promoted to full corporal.

Three United States ships were sunk by German submarines on Sunday, with a toll of some thirty-four American lives.

Four candidates received the first degree of Oddfellowship on the regular meeting of the local lodge on Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cooper and children left Coleman on Wednesday for Cobourg, Ontario, where they will spend some months.

A Frank man asks the police to find his missing wife. He says they can distinguish her by the initial tattooed on her left leg.

The announcement is made that the Dominion government has cancelled the Ross rifle contract, because the contractors were behind in their deliveries.

Miss Lucy Howe, who recently resigned her position with the local telephone exchange, has accepted a more lucrative position in the office at Lethbridge.

Capt. Colin MacLeod, attached to the military school at Crowfoot, was tried by court martial for absenting himself without leave, was found guilty and sentenced to dismissal. The sentence has been promulgated.

Last Saturday was tag day for the Returned Soldiers Bureau and the net sum of $36.45 has been raised to be added to the local fund. It is the intention of the local bureau to hold tag-days from time to time, and the monies so raised will be held in reserve "till the boys come home," when the funds thus held in reserve will go towards defraying the expense of one grand reception.

FOR SALE—Quarter section good land, adjoining Maple Leaf townsite on south side and Bellevue townsite on west side, well timbered and abundantly watered. Mostly cultivable, or suitable for stock. Pasture adjoining. Will sell 40 or 80 acres or more. Prices on application to Box "E," Blairmore Enterpri-

OF LOCAL AND GENERAL INTEREST

The Enterprise offers 35 per cent of all new subscriptions, and 20 per cent of all renewals, received up to May 31st, 1917, to the Red Cross Funds.

WANTED (immediately), for farm capable woman for housework. Must be good cook and baker. Good wages. Apply to Mrs. E. Buchanan-White Conley, Alta.

Pte. James Padin, who went overseas with the 122nd, returned home from England on Friday morning. Private Padin is returned on account of deafness.

John T. Sterling, provincial mine-inspector, spent several days in The Pass this week, looking through the local mines in company with the district manager, Mr. Shaw.

Last week we mentioned the fact that two government booze spotters were operating in The Pass, but forgot to mention also that one was of German extraction, and being paid by the government of the province of Alberta to try to run amuck with "Canadians" proper.

This individual tried to make some prospective victims believe that he was a returned wounded veteran, and that the only remedy he could find for the after effects of the gun-shot wounds was a "drop of the crater."

The Goat Mountain Minstrel Troupe will appear at the Blairmore open house on the night of Tuesday, April 3rd, after the sun-sipper of the local branch of the Red Cross Society. A splendid programme is in store for those who attend. "Peggy" should turn out and encourage the local talent.

A while ago we would very often hear of the central powers of Europe as Germany and Austria-Hungary. Now they are referred to as "Hungry Germany and Austria."

Pass people will hail with delight the report that the C.P.R. is seriously contemplating the return of the "local" train service between Cranbrook and Medicine Hat.

J. Charbonnier, manager of the West Canadian Collieries Co., who had been attending the conferences at Calgary between the coal operators and miners, returned to Blairmore Wednesday.

A suspension agreement, whereby the miners will continue to work after March 31st, providing the operators are showing a reasonable attitude in their negotiations, has been reached by the sub-committee in conference in Calgary.

The Goat Mountain Minstrel Troupe will appear at the Blairmore open house on the night of Tuesday, April 3rd, after the sun-sipper of the local branch of the Red Cross Society. A splendid programme is in store for those who attend. "Peggy" should turn out and encourage the local talent.

In a mixup of suit-cases in a Brown George flathouse in Provost Rd., R. J. McLean, who was going to a dance out of town, arrived there with nothing in his bag but two bathing suits; while another student, who had been going to a swimming meet, got there with nothing to bathe in but a full dress suit.

Mr. E. W. Christie received a letter from her son Joseph this week, from Somewhere in France. He is keeping o.k.

Jack O'Leary is putting up a hot-house in his back yard, and hopes to be able to land a prize for tomato raising this summer.

Private Peat lectured in the Workers' hall on Tuesday night to a good audience. He was ably assisted by Trooper Jerritt, who gave quite a number of interesting songs and sketches. Part of the proceeds were given to the Red Cross.

Mrs. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.

The masquerade ball given on Monday night was one of the biggest successes in the history of Bellevue. First prize for the most original lady's costume went to Mrs. James Galan, while Mrs. Joseph McLean, of Bellevue, won the prize for the best comic lady. G. R. Mintz was judged the most original gent, while the prize for the best comic gent went to Hillcrest. The affair, from a financial standpoint, was a record breaker. Proceeds were for the Red Cross.

Mr. A. Amos and family wish,

through the columns of the local paper, to thank everyone in general in Bellevue, who in any way assisted her since her husband's illness. Mr. Amos has been ill for some three years and unable to do any work.